

Globalization of firms : Theory and Applications

ECTS : 3

Description du contenu de l'enseignement :

Understanding the optimal international strategy of firms is key for a deep comprehension of the ongoing globalization process. The course focuses on the economic factors driving the optimal international strategy of heterogeneous firms: when exporting is the optimal strategy to serve the foreign country? when offshoring production abroad is optimal? In which countries and how? When exporting is more efficient than offshoring? Which are the main trade obstacles for firms? Based on analytical tools, the course will provide detailed answers to these questions.

Compétence à acquérir :

The international behavior of firms has important consequences for the wealth of developing countries. Whether a firm serves a foreign country via export or foreign direct investment has important macroeconomic consequences. At the end of the course, students will have a good knowledge of the mechanisms underlying the determinants and the consequences of the optimal international strategy of firms.

Mode de contrôle des connaissances :

The final evaluation is based on a participation (25%) and a final exam (75%)
